RESPECT FOR THE DEAD.

HOUSE AND SENATE BOTH ADJOURN

The Death of Representative Haskell of Kansas--Committees of Both Houses are Appointed to Attend the Funeral.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.--The flag over the Hall of the House was at half mast Monday on account of the death of Hon. D. C. Haskell, of Kansas, and prior to the hour of meeting, the desk of that member was draped in black and a handsome basket of flowers was placed thereon. The announcement of the death of Mr. Haskell was made in a touching and eloquent manner by Mr. Anderson, his colleague, who offered the usual resolution that the House adjourn as a mark of respect to the memory of the deceased. The resolution was unanimously adopted, and at 12:15 p. m. the House adjourned until Wednesday. The Speaker announced the following committees to accompany the remains to Kansas: Messrs. Russell (Kas.), Kasson (Iowa), Browne (Ind.), Ryan (Kas.), Le Fevre (Ohio), Burns (Mo.), Hanbeck (Kas.), and Graves (Mo.).

After the Senate Journal was read, Mr. Sherman introduced an order that the Senate proceed to the election of Secretary, Chief Clerk, Principal Executive Clerk, Chaplain, Sergeant-at-Arms, which went over. Petitions were then presented from the letter carriers of Kansas City and Nashville, praying for legislative action to give them thirty days leave annually. Mr. Harris presented a petition from the Merchant's Exchange, of Memphis, Tenn., asking that an appropriation be made to pay the rebate to tobacco dealers provided by the tariff act of last session. Mr. Dawes reported from the Committee on Indian Affairs a bill for the immediate relief of the Black Feet and other Indians in Northern Montana.

Mr. Hale introduced several bills relating to the building up of the Navy, and made a vigorous speech urging the necessity for prompt action in this matter. While the bills were being introduced, House resolution relating to the death of Representative Haskell was reported. On motion of Mr. Ingalls, the Senate adjourned. Messrs. Plumb, Cockrell and Dawes were appointed a committee to attend on the obsequies of the late Mr. Haskell.

THE NATION'S LAW MILL.

Her Majesty's Sub in O'Donnell's Case--Senate Reorganization.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.--Dudley C. Haskell, Representative of the Twenty-third District of Kansas, died here at 4:30 Sunday morning from Bright's disease. Mr. Haskell had been sick for several weeks, but his illness was rather sudden and unexpected. Only on Friday Speaker Carlisle had under consideration the question whether he could constitutionally administer the oath of office at Mr. Haskell's residence. Mr. Haskell was born in Washington County, Penn., June 6, 1834. He was first elected to Congress in 1878. He took a prominent part in the debates on the tariff last year.

REORGANIZATION OF THE SENATE.

The reorganization of the Senate still constitutes a prominent topic of conversation. Messrs. Mahone and Riddleberger are said to be angry on account of the defeat of their candidate, Geo. C. Gorham, for the Secretaryship. It was reported that they would cause some trouble in session, but later advices are to the effect that they will pocket their grievances and allow the reorganization to proceed according to caucus agreement. The Democrats will offer no opposition. Messrs. Bayard, Beck, Cockrell, Vest and others recognize the right of the Republicans to fix the offices to suit themselves. They think it would be not only discourteous, but improper, to interfere, and the outlook is that reorganization will be effected in a quiet manner, especially as the two rival parties have tacitly agreed to let the Republicans consummate the action of the caucus. A new President pro tempore will be elected to-day. The desire is still to confer the honor upon Senator Anthony. It is understood, however, that he will decline the office after a complimentary vote, and that either Senator Ingalls or John Sherman will then be tendered the position. Since the opening of the session Mr. Ingalls has been invariably chosen Mr. Ingalls as his substitute. This fact leads many to believe that the Kansas Senator will finally be selected as President pro tempore. Little or no business will be transacted by the Senate until after the reorganization and the adoption of the rules. Should the proposed revision of the rules lead to protracted or partisan discussion, it is believed the majority will consent to modification. Senator Sherman declared on Thursday that he was opposed to any change which may lead to debate on purely party lines. The consideration of the new rules, however, will probably consume the whole of the week.

HOUSE COMMITTEES.

Members of the House are very reticent, and prudently so, respecting the make-up of the committees. There is evidence that Speaker Carlisle has talked with a number of members on the subject, and that he is using every endeavor to place gentlemen to the best advantage. It has been rumored that General Rosecrans had refused the Chairmanship of the Committee on Military Affairs, but the story is denied. Various rumors have been circulated respecting the Chairmanship of the Committee on Appropriations, but the indications are that Mr. Randall will head the list on that committee, with Mr. Holman, of Indiana, second, and Mr. Townsend, of Illinois, third or fourth. It seems probable that Mr. Blackburn will not be tied down to the work of the Committee on Appropriations this Congress, but will be given an important place where. Quite a struggle is being made for the Committee on Naval Affairs between Messrs. Hewitt (N. Y.) and Morse (Mass.). This matter, and also that of the Chairmanship of Foreign Affairs, to which both Representatives Cox and Belmont aspire, are still being considered by the speaker, and until the committees are announced it is not probable that it will be definitely known which of the four gentlemen have been selected to take charge of these important committees. Statements have been made which naturally found their way into the newspapers, that the candidacy of Messrs. Cox and Belmont, of New York, had resulted in a great deal of bad feeling in the New York delegation, and that the gentlemen in question were very bitter toward each other. As a matter of fact, however, no bad feeling exists.

ASTOUNDING BRUTALITY.

A PARENT'S CRUELTY TO HIS CHILD

Leaving Her to Die Alone of Lack of Care and Playing Cards Over Her Dead Body in the House--Sad Case.

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 17.--A sad case of cruelty has just come to light. Agents of the Humane Society have filed an information against a German, named Schlemmer, for cruelty and neglect, causing the death of his daughter. The girl died last week of typhoid fever and lack of medical attention. Schlemmer is a widower and the poor girl, scarcely more than twenty years of age, had been obliged since her mother's death, three years ago, to do the drudgery and work of the entire family. A woman living near Schlemmer called to inquire about the sick girl and found the family playing cards. Failing to get any satisfaction from them she went upstairs and found the emaciated body of the girl on a wretched bed, cold and lifeless, drawn up by the agony of death, and entirely uncared for.

A BULLET IN HIS BRAIN.

A Bullet Deeply Imbedded in His Brain for Nearly Two Months.

New York, Dec. 17.--Charles Reimer, seventeen years old, of No. 98 Sample street, Brooklyn, shot himself in the head in the parlor of his home on Sunday, October 28. The shooting, he claims, was accidental and was done while he was handling a Smith & Wesson 22-calibre revolver. The bullet passed six inches through the middle of his brain. According to the physician it is there yet, but Reimer has fully recovered and has returned to his work in this city as sound in mind, body and spirits as before. The doctors make the following statement: "We found that the ball had entered the middle of the right side of the head, and that it took a slightly downward course six inches directly through the reasoning faculties. The young man's pulse was at forty-eight beats to the minute. We probed for the bullet, going three inches into the brain and finding the passage made by the ball leading still further in. Then we agreed to leave further probing till the next day, and put the young man on strict anti-phlogistic treatment to allay the inflammation which we expected. We did not anticipate his recovery, but confidently expected his death within twenty-four hours and gave his family no hope. His pulse rallied before evening, rising to fifty-five degrees, and very little inflammation set in. These were favorable symptoms, but we did not deem that there was the least chance of his surviving. Next day we probed again, going five inches into the brain, and locating the bullet an inch further in. We judged that it would only hasten death to remove it, and concluded to let it stay there. Although we had no hopes of the young man's recovery, we persisted in our treatment, the patient's father and mother doing the nursing. He, unexpectedly to us, gained every day, till at the end of two weeks he was comparatively out of danger. He is now fully recovered, and has gone back to work in his sound health, mind and spirits as he ever enjoyed, apparently."

O'DONNELL IS SWUNG OFF.

The Executioner's Work Clean and Swift.

LONDON, Dec. 17.--Patrick O'Donnell, the slayer of James Carey, paid the penalty of his crime within the walls of Newgate this morning. The drop fell precisely at 8 o'clock. Last night O'Donnell went to bed about 10 o'clock and remained apparently asleep until 5:30 this morning. At 6 o'clock Father Fleming came to the prison and remained in prayer with him for some time. At the conclusion of prayers, the sacrament was administered to the condemned. O'Donnell then partook of a light breakfast which he appeared to eat with some relish. At 7:45 o'clock the prison bell began tolling, a similar warning was heard from the bell of St. Sepulchre's Church on the Robberviaduct. Directly after the Governor of the jail with the head warden entered, and O'Donnell was at once led to the planing room, situated about half way between the condemned cell and the prison yard. Here he found the executioner, Binns, awaiting him, together with the Sheriff of London, three wardens and the prison doctor. Binns deftly bound O'Donnell's arms with leather thongs, the convict submitting quietly. The procession was then formed, the prisoner being in the center, and slowly marched to the prison yard, in which the scaffold had been erected. They passed so close to the few spectators who had been admitted to witness the execution, that they could have touched O'Donnell but for the lattice work which separated them. The scaffold, which was quickly reached, had the appearance of an ordinary shed. Hempen cord hung conspicuously from a cross beam above. The shed was half boarded up, so that O'Donnell and his attendants, as they stood there, could be seen by those present only from the waist up. Binns lost not a moment in placing the white cap over the victim's face and adjusting the noose. A moment after O'Donnell disappeared, and a quivering cord was all that remained to show where he had stood. The Governor and doctor gazed for a moment into the cellar-like pit in which the convicted body swung, and then hurried away. Outside the jail a considerable crowd had assembled, but dispersed directly after the black flag was hoisted.

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Dec. 17.--Since a week ago last Saturday night Mrs. Slaughter (colored), wife of Charles Slaughter, living on Washington avenue, north of the college, has not been seen. She has a daughter living at Ozark, and a letter was sent to her inquiring if her mother was there, but the daughter came to the city in great alarm, to report that she had not been at Ozark. The neighbors of Mr. Slaughter say that they heard a disturbance, fighting and screaming at his house last Saturday night. An active search has been made for the missing women, in which her husband has actively participated.

DISTRIBUTING MONEY TO THE IRISH POOR.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.--Miss Ella Ford has arrived on the Germanic from her trip to Ireland, where she has distributed the $5,000 subscribed for the relief of the families of executed convicts. She says she found these persons in the most heartrending destitution, and the givers of the money can have the satisfaction of knowing their generosity has relieved great suffering. She was shadowed by Government detectives, and attempts were made to make trouble for her by reports that she was using money to encourage sedition.

ALL ABOUT A LETTER.

A Doctor Sued by a Travelling Clerk for False Imprisonment.

TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 17.--A most interesting case was begun last week and is still being tried before Chief Justice Beasley in the Hunterdon County Court at Flemington. The parties are Burt R. Loderbach, a travelling salesman for a large drug house in Philadelphia, and Dr. W. S. Creveling, of Bloomsbury, in Hunterdon County. Dr. Creveling owns the Odd-Fellows' Hall in Bloomsbury. In March last Samuel Hanson, a druggist, occupied a part of the building. On March 3 he received an anonymous letter postmarked Easton, Pa., stating that if he wished to save his goods from destruction he should move them from the building. He took the letter to Dr. Creveling and, then, fearing that it might be burned, moved from the building. The insurance companies soon afterwards cancelled the policies on the building. Just prior to the reception of the letter by Mr. Hanson, Loderbach was in Bloomsbury. For some unknown reason Dr. Creveling suspected him of sending the letter.

On July 23 Loderbach returned to Bloomsbury and was arrested. In September the Grand Jury met and failed to find a true bill against him for sending a threatening letter. Last October Loderbach through his counsel, J. M. Scovel, began a suit against Dr. Creveling to recover $3,000 for false imprisonment. Loderbach proves he was in Newark, N. J., when the letter was posted. The case is still on.

IN ROME AT LAST.

That Tedious "Visit" Moving Forwardly to Its End.

ROME, Dec. 17.--The Crown Prince Frederick William arrived here at 12:30 p. m., and was met at the door of the saloon carriage immediately after it entered the station by King Humbert and Prince Amado, both of whom kissed the royal visitor. The royal party and suite then drove to the Quirinal Palace in open carriages. The vicinity of the railway station and the streets through which the carriages containing the royal party passed were lined with crowds, and the windows and balconies of the various buildings along the route were filled with sight-seers. Troops lined the route along which the Prince passed and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed. The Crown Prince was frequently cheered while en route to the Quirinal, where a great crowd assembled who loudly cheered him. A few moments after the royal party entered the Quirinal, the Crown Prince, in response to repeated calls from the vast crowd appeared on the balcony and bowed his acknowledgments, the band in the meantime playing the German national anthem. The Prince then held a reception and members of the aristocracy and high officials were present.

THE SHEETED DEAD.

High Jinks Out Up by New Jersey Ghosts.

STEWARTSVILLE, N. J., Dec. 17.--The residents of this village are morbidly excited over the nightly antics of alleged apparitions in an antique old house situated near the village academy. Related villagers aver that they have seen sudden flashes of light equalling the brilliancy of the electric lamp, and heard shriek after shriek in quick succession, as if some one was being murdered. People who have had the temerity to wait for further developments after hearing these blood-curdling shrieks are ready to swear that they have seen the forms of the old house raised and the forms of females in scant raiment indulging in shocking orgies. It is claimed that the programme of sudden illumination, shrieks, murders and orgies is rigidly adhered to. There are numerous believers in the truth of these statements, but it is hinted that a gang of tramps is responsible for the manifestations.

THE VICE-PRESIDENCY.

Sentiment in Favor of Senator Anthony--Other Capital Events.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.--At a Republican caucus of Senators Monday the question of electing a Vice-President pro tempore was discussed. There was a unanimous sentiment developed in favor of the election of Senator Anthony, but it was thought advisable to lay the subject over until after the holiday recess. A report is current that considerable opposition has arisen to the selection of Mr. W. P. Canaday, of North Carolina, to be Sergeant-at-Arms. General Anson G. McCook, the Caucus nominee for Secretary of the Senate, arrived in Washington Monday. The Washington Bar Association has appointed a committee, consisting of R. T. Merrick, Thos. F. Bayard, and others, to prepare suitable resolutions in memory of their late colleague, Judge Jere Black, of York, Pa., and report the same to an adjourned committee of the Association to be held in the United States Supreme Court chamber on Friday next.

WILL DEMAND GORE.

A Member of the Dukes Tribe on the War Path.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Dec. 17.--The arrival home, with his young bride, of Frank J. Hellin, who figured in the sensational wedding in Baltimore, a few days ago, marrying Miss Zimmerman after he was pursued about the city several hours by his rival, young Hammond, of Virginia, was made the occasion of an enthusiastic demonstration by his friends. Hellin's mother is a step-sister of the Dukes, and Dukes was the guardian of the Hellin boys. Frank's older brother has left for Baltimore, where he will hunt up Hammond for the purpose of fighting a duel with him. He is a dare-devil fellow, having figured in many adventures in the West, and if he meets Hammond trouble will likely ensue.

A Lady Lawyer Sued.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 17.--Judge Hare has denied the application of Mrs. Carrie B. Kilgour for admission to practice in the Common Pleas Court. Judge Hare said that the uniform rule and practice of the Courts of Pennsylvania were against the admission of women lawyers, and he was not disposed to take upon himself the responsibility of introducing the innovation. An application for the admission of Mrs. Kilgour will be made to the Supreme Court early next month.

The Crown Prince in Rome.

ROME, Dec. 17.--The Quirinal palace has been reserved for the entertainment of the Crown Prince. It is significant that this edifice, having been constructed since 1870, is exempt from the anathema of Pope Pius IX., pronouncing excommunication upon the Quirinal and all within it.

THE bill introduced in the U. S. Senate by Senator Beck, to divide Kentucky into two districts, thus creating two Federal Courts, is meeting with a good deal of opposition all over the State. A DESPATCH from Washington says: A former prosperous Lexington, Ky., merchant, in an evil hour sold out and went to Washington for a clerkship. Finally, after expensive months of waiting, money gone and in debt, he was appointed wheelbarrow man in the printing office at $1.50 a day, and he has been wheeling ever since.

A NUMBER of bills for retiring the trade dollar have been introduced in Congress, and it is to be hoped that our legislators will see their way to a plan for robbing it of its power for mischief. The President's suggestion was to buy them up at a slight advance over their intrinsic value. The plan of the Secretary of the Treasury is to exchange standard dollars for them. It is yet to be seen which plan, if either, congressional wisdom will adopt. The coin, since its legal-tender quality is gone, has a bad name, though it is worth more intrinsically than the standard dollar is worth intrinsically, and it should be promptly disposed of.

Tobacco Industry in North Carolina.

The following is from the West Chester (Pa.) Local News, and is an extract from a lecture delivered there by Willis P. Hazzard, before the Microscopical Society: "Winston and Salem being in the centre of a tobacco-growing district, large factories are erected, employing many hands in manufacturing it into various attractive market shapes. This gives work to many people and relieves the community of what would otherwise be an idle negro population. North Carolina raised, in 1880, 27,000,000 pounds of tobacco. The tobacco is raised by the farmers and when cured ready for market and tied up in hands or bundles, is brought to their favorite warehouse; each grade of tobacco as sorted by the farmer is placed in a pile three to four feet in diameter, on a circular mat woven of straw, upon the floor. Upon each pile is stuck a card with the weight upon it as tested by the auctioneer. Promptly at the hour of sale he commences at one end of a row and proceeds with great rapidity to sell each lot in its turn, his tongue, hung loosely in the middle, is worked with such volubility that a stranger cannot comprehend the fourth of what he says. No time is wasted on any lot, the bidding has to be very quick and spirited, and the buyers being experienced manufacturers know at once its value and are prepared to give it. The color, the size, the aroma, its tenacity, all of which are matters requiring great experience in curing, are what regulate the price. Some lots will go for a few cents per pound, and from there at all prices up to $1.25. This last price is seldom reached, but the Governor and myself stood chatting alongside of a pile that we were told was something extra and would bring a great price; our curiosity led us to see it sold. Directly it was reached. It was started at seventy-five cents and speedily knocked down at $1.25 amid great enthusiasm. The pile was about four feet in diameter and in conical shape about two feet high, and brought $250, being 200 pounds. This was part of the crop of a farmer, who three years before had taken off the hands of a previous purchaser a farm of fifty-seven acres and paid for the lot $125. He put part of it into tobacco and sold the first year $1,100 worth; the second year, $1,300, and this year over 3,000 pounds of tobacco at an average of seventy-four cents per pound, realizing $2,300, and had enough left to realize $3,000. This is only a specimen of what may be done by any of our own farmers with enterprise sufficient to take a little money with them and go down to western North Carolina and settle. Great attention is being given to the grasses, wheat and oats, tobacco and corn. There is a ready market for all the hay that can be produced, at high prices, as the railroads that penetrate through there traverse every direction. Just to-day do I read of a new line from Chicago to Florida, to be made by building a connecting link of twenty miles from Asheville to Henderson.

Emigrants will be received with open arms and kindly assistance if they are of a desirable kind; especially Pennsylvanians, with a little capital. Here they will soon feel at home, for they will find their own kind all around them. We know of no more promising section than the western portion of North Carolina for the industrious poor man, but more certainly if he has some capital. The climate is delightful and healthful, the frosts moderate, and the seasons long, sheltered as these lands are by the high range of mountains which separate this portion of the State from Tennessee.

To resume about the tobacco. Within a few minutes after the sale of any man's lots the owner can step up to the office and he will find the account of sales ready made out and the proper amount in a check waiting for him. The thorough and prompt business way in which the whole transaction is conducted is worthy of all praise. The farmer can drive in with his load of tobacco, and in hour or two go home with a check for it at the highest open market price.

As soon as the buyer is through with his purchase at one warehouse and another, or more, his team is driven to the warehouse; a truck is run under the side of the mat holding his purchase; it is deftly tilted on; run to his wagon and lifted in, and may in a few minutes be in the process of manufacture.

Dr. Brown kindly showed us through his factory, where several hundred negroes were employed in getting it ready or the consumer's market, and the various processes were shown to us, from the moistening and stripping the leaf to its packed state. While every effort is made to have all the processes cleanly, we can only say that the greatest lovers of the weed would not use it with as much relish after seeing the manipulations as before while the novice would find it the strongest argument for quitting its use. Handled entirely by not cleanly negroes; soaked in licorice juice, sugar, ect., it receives additions we prefer not to chew. Each lot of work is let out to a boss darkey, who is responsible and employs his own hands. When the tobacco is made up and packed for the moulds, it is placed then inside of steel cylinders of great strength, and hydraulic power is applied with great force, so that each comes out pressed into uniform size and thickness and into very compact shape, and is at once packed into strong square boxes, tubs or buckets, nailed up, and labeled and stamped for shipping. The factories do not run in midwinter.

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

No other complaints are so insidious in their attack as those affecting the throat and lungs: none so trifling with the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or unseasonable exposure, is often but the beginning of a fatal sickness. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has well proven its efficacy in a forty years' fight with throat and lung diseases, and should be taken in all cases without delay.

A Terrible Cough Cured.

"In 1871 I took a severe cold, which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded me the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continued use of the PECTORAL a permanent cure was effected. I am now 62 years old, hale and hearty, and am satisfied your CHERRY PECTORAL saved me. HORACE FAIRBROTHER, Rockingham, Vt., July 15, 1882.

Croup.—A Mother's Tribute.

"While in the country last winter my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. One of the family suggested the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, a bottle of which was always kept in the house. This was tried in small and frequent doses, and to our delight in less than half an hour the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the CHERRY PECTORAL had saved my darling's life. Can you wonder at our gratitude? Sincerely yours, MRS. EMMA GRENNEY, 120 West 128th St., New York, May 16, 1882.

"I have used AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL in my family for several years, and do not hesitate to pronounce it the most effectual remedy for coughs and colds we have ever tried. A. J. CRANE,"

Lake Crystal, Minn., March 13, 1882.

"I suffered for eight years from Bronchitis, and after trying many remedies with no success, I was cured by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. JOSEPH WALDEN, Byhalla, Miss., April 5, 1882.

"I cannot say enough in praise of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, believing as I do that but for its use I should long since have died from lung troubles. E. BRADGON, Palestine, Texas, April 22, 1882.

No case of an affection of the throat or lungs exists which cannot be greatly relieved by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and it will always cure when the disease is not already beyond the control of medicine.

The detectives at Cincinnati are said to be working on the theory that Allie Hubbard was murdered, and claim to be in possession of a clue that may lead to the arrest of the alleged murderer.

The first number of the Daily Sentinel-Democrat, published at Mt. Sterling, has been received. It is a credit to the enterprising publishers.

The Handy No. 2 did not leave Cincinnati yesterday as expected, on account of the bad weather and some pipe fitting it was found necessary to do. A despatch received by the BULLETIN this morning states that she will leave to-day.

The business of Maysville was never conducted on a better basis than now. There is not in the city, that we know of, a single business man who is not in a sound financial condition. This is a record that very few towns in the country can show.

The Postmaster General has issued a circular to postmasters, in which he says: "In consequence of the recent reduction in the letter rate of postage, postmasters are directed to exchange for the public, as application can be made, the three and six-cent denominations of postage stamps and stamped envelopes for others of different denominations."

The Kentucky Central with its usual spirit of liberality, is offering cheap rates during the holidays. From December 22 to January 1 inclusive, excursion tickets will be sold to Covington from all points on the Maysville Division at $3 for the round trip, and between all other stations at extremely low rates. These tickets will be good to return until January 2, including that day.

Mr. JOHN BLANCHARD does not want to be a councilman, and gives some very pointed reasons for declining the honors his friends wish to confer upon him. The following is his card:

To the voters of the Fifth Ward of the city of Maysville who have so kindly solicited me to become a candidate for Councilman, I return my sincere thanks, and must insist, positively but politely, that I cannot afford to make the race. There are many reasons why I cannot make this attempt. It is now quiet and peaceful in the ward—contentment hangs upon every brow—whereas, if I were a candidate the flood-gates would be turned loose to secure my defeat, and the money bags and flesh-pots of Egypt would be brought into requisition, while the very police of the Government would be raised into line. All this would be done, as it has been done, and even more, to keep me out of a position that I have no desire to get into. Furthermore, I do not want to assume the responsibility of membership in a board that is constantly doing the city more harm than it is good; subsidizing pots; closing public streets and alleys for private purposes, and increasing the city taxes to build mud banks and private roadways, and indulging in other crookedness that I could not straighten up in a natural lifetime, and I am of the opinion that the ward would be far better off if we had no Councilmen at all. Respectfully yours,
JOHN BLANCHARD.

PERSONALS.
Mrs. Nancy Moore and son, of Dover, are the guests of the family of Mr. W. H. Ambrose, of Chester.

Mr. Charles F. Petry expects to spend part of the winter in Florida. He will go there in a few weeks.

Judge T. M. Dora, of Germantown, one of the BULLETIN's earliest subscribers, favored us with a call on Monday.

Rev. W. W. Spates, of Sardis, left today on a visit to his friends near Kansas City. He will be absent about a month.

Sheriff J. P. Hebling, of Georgetown, Ohio, will be urged by his friends as a candidate for Warden of the State penitentiary.

ABERDEEN ITEMS.

The Stanley Dramatic Troupe arrived Sunday.

Those R. lineups at the new tin shop are immense.

Don't forget the Opheus Thursday, the 20th of December.

Patronize home talent. Be sure and take in the Choral to-night.

We will retreat for Edward. He says he don't drink coffee. Guess he must sip nectar then.

The young son of Mr. Chas. Rains was accidentally burned on Saturday last, but only slightly.

The musical notes of the sleigh bells were echoing on our streets for the first time this season on Sunday.

Saturday night is the most demonstrative we have in this town, interlarded with a great deal of whisky.

From reports we are under the impression the daily BULLETIN is on the boom in this town, and long may she boom if we can help it.

We bestow merit where merit is due, and must say that Alex. D. Mills is one of the most courteous and accommodating young men of our city.

There are a few young men who are working considerably over their heads. Now bear this in mind, your time will come before long, young men. We will make you up a Christmas present.

H. F. True & Son will soon be done pricing for this season. This firm is composed of the most clever and courteous gentlemen we have ever had in this town, and just in all their dealings, and kindred by all.

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever." You should pay a visit to the dry goods emporium of A. S. Boswell & Co. to be convinced of this fact. Their display embraces all of the novelties of the season, and they will be glad to show you through their mammoth stock.

Next Thursday night there will be one of the most notable events that ever transpired in this city, namely, the concert given by the Orpheus club. It is composed entirely of some talent and of the very best and should be appreciated. It has required labor and expense to bring it to its present standard, and they should be greeted with a crowded house.

We made an inspection of Mr. Chas. Rains' unexcelled cooking apparatus "The Ladies' Friend," which it is in every respect. It is used for cooking vegetables and meats of all kinds, in fact everything pertaining to the cooking line. It is handy, ingenious, and does the work Mr. Rains expects to get his patent papers shortly, when they will be for sale.

We have been trying to find out what was the matter with one of our prominent young gentlemen, who is either in love or been killed. He has that far away look as if he was trying to pry into the hidden mysteries of the future and thereby read his fate. A fatal case, no doubt, but we hope not. There might be a spirit of a chance left for him, yet who knows.

COUNTY POINTS.

TWO LICK.

John W. Woodward, of Mt. Gilead, was visiting here last week.

Mrs. E. B. Hill has returned from an extended visit to Robertson county.

There will be a Christmas tree at the Beech Grove school house on Christmas eve.

From the preparations that are going on Christmas will be a lively time.

There will be a festival at Two Lick church on next Saturday evening, the 22nd. A good time is anticipated. Ladies, free, gentlemen and boys 10 cents. Cakes, candies, nuts, fruits, &c., will be on hand. Home.

The day for national conventions in the East seems to have passed, for the present at least. The Democratic National Convention in 1872 was held in Baltimore, and the Republican Convention in Philadelphia. Since then the conventions of both parties have been held in the West. The Democratic Convention in 1876 was held in St. Louis, and that of 1880 in Cincinnati, whilst the Republican Convention of 1876 was held in Cincinnati, and that of 1880 in Chicago. From present appearances it seems not improbable that the Democratic Convention for 1884 will also be held in a Western city.

RED IN CLOAK AND ULSTER.

Gay Colors That Would Have Been Objectionable Last Year Now in Favor.

N. Y. Evening Post.

Little girls this winter are wearing regular little Red Riding Hoods; their cloaks being fashioned exactly after the model worn by the unfortunate heroine of the famous nursery legend. The fashion has also extended to people of larger growth as many young ladies are seen wearing long ulsters and close-fitting Newmarkets made of ladies' cloth of the darkest shade of cardinal or Van Dyke red. Most of these wraps are unadorned; a few are seen trimmed with five or six rows of very narrow black velvet ribbon. This is usually when the cloak is worn over skirts of black velvet and black gloves are a fitting accompaniment, though a few daring women have appeared wearing—in utterly bad taste—a pair of long Swedish kid gloves of a shade corresponding with that of the ulster.

Many shades of red hitherto seen only upon children or relegated to home wear, if adopted by grown-up people, are seen upon the streets—shades which but a year ago would have made the wearer, if upon the promenade, an object of critical notice and remark. These gay colors are seen everywhere just now.

Card.

Circumstances will probably require my removal from Maysville about the first of January, and I therefore withdraw from the race for assessor. I return my sincere thanks to all who have kindly supported me in the contest.

No other medicine has won for itself such universal approbation in its own city, state and country, and among all people, as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is the best combination of vegetable blood purifiers, with the iodide of potassium and iron, ever offered to the public.

Wills' World Worm Candy is a standard remedy and is admitted to be the best known. It is mild in its action and effective in all cases. It resembles ordinary stick candy and children take it without knowing it is medicine. For sale by all druggists. d12d&w1w

A clear head is indicative of good health and regular habits. When the body feels heavy and languid, and the mind works sluggishly, Ayer's Cathartic Pills will wonderfully assist to a recovery of physical buoyancy and mental vigor. The constipated should use them.

A Quick Recovery.

It gives us pleasure to state that the merchant who was reported to be at the point of death from an attack of pneumonia, has entirely recovered by the use of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. Naturally he feels grateful for the benefits derived from using this remedy for the lungs and throat; and in giving publicity to this statement we are actuated by the motives of public beneficence, trusting that others may be benefitted in a similar manner.

POSTAL TELEGRAPHY.
If Figures Don't Lie the Scheme Might be Practicable.
Washington, Dec. 17.—The subject of postal telegraphy has provoked considerable private discussion among members of Congress during the past week. The most popular bill yet introduced looking to the establishment of a postal telegraph system appears to be that of Representative Anderson, of Kansas, referred to in these despatches previous to its introduction in the House. The act approved July 24, 1896, entitled "An act to aid in the construction of telegraph lines and to secure to the Government the use of the same for postal, military and other purposes," among other things, provides that all telegraphic communications between the several departments of the Government of the United States and their officers and agents, shall in their transmission over the lines of any said companies have priority over all other business, and shall be sent at rates to be annually fixed by the Postmaster General. "This clause," said Mr. Anderson, "is the only keynote to any bill. I think that the great difficulty in obtaining legislation on this subject, heretofore, has been on account of the large appropriation of money required to begin the work of construction. My bill obviates any necessity for the appropriation of a single dollar, and provides that the lines shall be built with money derived from the sale of $6,000,000 of three per cent bonds. Every one who has examined this subject knows that within a period of twenty years the profits of a system of postal telegraphy will build lines, not only to every city, but to every place in the United States where there is a fourth class postoffice, and the bonds which it is proposed to issue are to be redeemable at the option of the Government in ten or thirty years. This plan, in my judgment, will secure the establishment for the Government of a complete telegraph service without the expenditure of a dollar outside of the amount realized upon the sale of the $6,000,000 bonds." Mr. Anderson's bill authorizes the Postmaster General to make connection with the lines belonging to any "railroad or telegraph company" which has received a grant of public lands, bonds or credit from the United States, and demand that all "postal telegraph messages" shall be transmitted over the wires of these connecting lines at Government rates and in the manner prescribed by the law of 1896 for the transmission of Government business.

CONDENSED NEWS.
It is reported that the Crown Prince will officially visit the Pope Tuesday, and that Cardinal Jacobini will return the visit.
Six thousand French troops have been landed from gunboats and launches within seven miles of Sontay, and an assault on the town is expected to speedily follow.
At Rockford, Ill., Sunday, two Swedes, John Peterson and August Erickson, quarreled about a woman and fought with knives. Peterson was stabbed fifteen times, and cannot live.
SUNDAY evening late a man named John Schiffhauer, Pittsburg, fell off his wagon in Allegheny. The wheels passed over his body, injuring him so badly that he died in about two hours after. He was a prominent member of the G. A. R., and was well and favorably known. He leaves a wife and large family.
The extensive works of the Akron, O. Straw Board Company, were partly destroyed by a fire Sunday, which was caused by spontaneous combustion of lime or straw in the bleaching room. Loss $35,000. Insured in fourteen companies for $27,000. The engines and boilers were destroyed. One hundred men are thrown out of employment.
An Epidemic of Diphtheria.
HUNTINGTON, PA., Dec. 17.—The borough of Coalmont, this county, has been scourged with diphtheria in a very violent form for more than a month past. Every family in the place has been afflicted, and a large number of children have died. The public schools were closed for four weeks on account of the disease. They will be reopened this week.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE
The Most Successful Remedy ever discovered as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. Read proof below.

Kendall's Spavin Cure.
SANTA ROSA, California, Feb. 9, 1883.
B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—I feel it a duty to others suffering with the piles and falling of the rectum to write to you. I have had the piles and prolapsus of the rectum for five years, for the past three years I have suffered the most agonizing pains. I tried everything without relief, but after ten days' use of Kendall's Spavin Cure, I have not seen or heard of the piles since. One who has not suffered as I have cannot comprehend the great joy that I felt at being cured of a disease almost worse than death. I had a valuable young horse that had a large bunch gather on his breast bone. I tried all kinds of liniments and had it cut open without any benefit. Saw your advertisement and bought a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure and ordered my teamster to use as directed. In less than one week the lump had disappeared. Thinking that a liniment that would do what Kendall's Spavin Cure has done for my horse might benefit more. I tried it as a last resort. With gratitude and best wishes for your success, I am faithfully yours,
J. H. GLENN.

Kendall's SPAVIN CURE
On HUMAN Flesh.
VEVAY, IND., Aug. 12th, 1881.
DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gents:—Sample of circulars received to-day. Please send me some with my imprint, printed on one side only. The Kendall's Spavin Cure is in excellent demand with us, and not only for animals, but for human ailments also. Mr. Jon. Norris, one of the leading farmers in our county, sprained an ankle badly, and knowing the value of the remedy for horses, tried it on himself, and it did far better than he had expected. Cured the sprain in very short order. Yours respectfully,
C. O. THIERAND.
Price $1 per bottle, or 6 bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors, DR. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Enosburgh Falls, Vt. Send for illustrated circular.

PROVISIONS and
Encouraged by the largely increased trade I have had during the last year, and being determined to further increase it the coming year, I have taken special pains in the selection of my stock for the fall and winter trade in order that I may be fully prepared to meet the wants of my customers in every particular. My goods are all first-class as to quality; purchased from first hands for cash, and I risk nothing in saying that I am prepared to successfully compete with any house in the city. I carry the largest and most complete stock of CANNED GOODS in the city, all strictly standard and guaranteed to give satisfaction. My house is headquarters for Three Particular Points.

Point the First.—BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is not an intoxicating compound. It is a tonic medicine, not a drink. It is a skillfully compounded preparation made to restore strength and health; not a beverage to be sold in bar-rooms and taverns.
Point the Second.—BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is free from everything injurious. The most delicate ladies and the most enfeebled infants may use it with perfect safety and with great advantage. While it is powerful in its remedial agency, it is gentle in its operation, restoring wasted strength and imparting robust health in the most efficient manner.
Point the Third.—BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is made by the Brown Chemical Company of Baltimore, a long established house, whose reputation is well known to the business world and the general community. There is no risk in buying such a medicine. 6
